Appendix 1: Conditions for use

- Public and private organizations can use the DNFCS data for e.g. research purposes, education or teaching. Given the complex structure of the data the use requires extensive expertise in the field of data processing.
- By means of a motivated application using attached form, a copy of the DNFCS data can be obtained from the RIVM.
- Even when an executive party of the (private) client has already access to the DNFCS data, the client needs to apply for use of DNFCS data.
- It is not allowed to distribute or sell any of the obtained data of DNFCS to other parties.
- The data are highly pseudonymized, making it practically impossible to trace affected individuals. However, each agency that receives and uses DNFCS data is obliged to treat the data as if they were personal data. This means that:
 - User will not perform any act which would lead to the re-identification of the individuals concerned, including by linking different sets of data, comparing and processing data.
 - User shall take appropriate technical and organisational measures to safeguard a level of security attuned to the risk, so that the use of the provided data complies with the requirements under the EU Data Protection laws and other Applicable Legislation and Regulations concerning the Processing of Personal Data, and the protection of the rights of Data Subjects is safeguarded.
 - When third parties get unintended access to the data, this will be initially seen as a data breach. In this case, the user shall notify RIVM (via vcp@rivm.nl) without unreasonable delay and no later than within 24 hours after discovery of a personal data breach or a reasonable suspicion of a personal data breach.
- The agency is obliged to report their publications based on the obtained DNFCS data to the administrator of the data. This reporting needs to be done before December 10th of the year of publication.
- In order to get insight in the use of the DNFCS data, the RIVM summarizes the surveys carried out by public and private organizations using DNFCS data, on a yearly basis.
- Publications of results based on the provided DNFCS data need to be correctly acknowledged (name of study):
 - DNFCS 2012-2016; RIVM
 - DNFCS-Older adults (2010-2012); RIVM
 - DNFCS 2007-2010; RIVM;
 - DNFCS-Young children (2005-2006); RIVM
 - DNFCS-Young adults (2003); RIVM
