Re: Invitation for cervical cancer screening

Dear A.B. van der Test,

We are writing to invite you to take part in the cervical cancer population screening. You are receiving this first invitation letter because you have had your 30th birthday. This screening helps us detect cervical cancer or a precancerous abnormality as early as possible. This is important, because the earlier it is found, the better we can treat it.

Did you have an HPV vaccination as a teenager?

Even if you did, it is still important to take part in the population screening now. The HPV vaccination gives you better protection against cervical cancer. But it does not give you 100% protection.

You decide whether to take part or not

In the leaflet, we explain how the screening works. You can take part in two ways:

• With a self-sampling device at home at a time that suits you. For your convenience, we have sent a self-sampling device along with this letter. Using the self-sampling device is simple. To help you, we have created instructions and an instructional video at www.bevolkingsonderzoekbaarmoederhalskanker.nl/vertalingen

• With a smear test at your GP practice. You will need to make your own appointment and bring this letter with stickers with you when you go. You can ask to have a female doctor's assistant do the smear test. Do you plan to have a smear test done? Please dispose of the self-sampling device by sorting it with other paper and PMD waste.

Taking part in the population screening costs no money. You will receive the results by post within four weeks.
